The Girl in the Torch Robert Sharenow

The Invention of Hugo Cabret meets True Grit in this heartfelt novel of resilience, hope, and discovering a family where you least expect it, from award-winning author Robert Sharenow.

At the dawn of the twentieth century, thousands of immigrants are arriving in the promised land of New York City. Twelve-year-old Sarah has always dreamed of America, a land of freedom and possibility. In her small village she stares at a postcard of the Statue of Liberty and imagines the Lady beckoning to her. When Sarah and her mother finally journey across the Atlantic, though, tragedy strikes—and Sarah finds herself being sent back before she even sets foot in the country.

Yet just as Sarah is ushered onto the boat that will send her away from the land of her dreams, she makes a life-or-death decision. She daringly jumps off the back of the boat and swims as hard as she can toward the Lady's island and a new life.

Her leap of faith leads her to an unbelievable hiding place: the Statue of Liberty itself. Now Sarah must find a way to Manhattan while avoiding the night watchman and scavenging enough food to survive. When a surprising ally helps bring her to the city, Sarah finds herself facing new dangers and a life on her own. Will she ever find a true home in America?

Kathryn Botello:

As a pupil exactly feel bored in order to reading. If their teacher inquired them to go to the library or make summary for some publication, they are complained. Just very little students that has reading's heart and soul or real their passion. They just do what the educator want, like asked to the library. They go to right now there but nothing reading seriously. Any students feel that examining is not important, boring and can't see colorful pics on there. Yeah, it is to get complicated. Book is very important for you. As we know that on this era, many ways to get whatever we would like. Likewise word says, ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore this The Girl in the Torch can make you feel more interested to read.
