Letters From the Field 1925-1975 (World Perspectives, 52) - Book Club Edition Margaret Mead

From dust jacket: Beginning in 1925, when as a young anthropologist of 23 she set off to do her first field work in Samoa, Margaret Mead has sent home to family and friends these letters from the field "to make a little more real for them: the exotic worlds that absorbed her. Now, in this complement to her best-selling memoir Blackberry Winter, Dr. Mead has brought together a selection of the letters she wrote from Samoa in 1925-26; from Pere Village, Manus, in the Admiralty Islands, in 1928-29; from the Arapesh, Mundugumor, and Tchambuli, New Guinea, in 1932-33; from Bali and the Iatmul, New Guinea, in 1936-39; from Manus again in 1953; and during brief field tips and field visits in the 60's and 70's to Manus, several New Guinea sites, and Montserrat in the West Indies. Enhanced by more than 100 photographs, this collection is, as the author puts it, "a very personal record of what it has meant to be a practicing anthropologist over the last 50 years." Its readers share with Dr. Mead "the unique, but also cumulative, experience of immersing oneself in the ongoing life of another people, suspending for the time both one's beliefs and disbeliefs, and simultaneously attempting to understand mentally and physically this other version of reality."
